Cutting Boulevard Completed

Old King Baseball Reigns Today

STREET IS OPEN FOR SERVICE; UNIQUE

ne unit of the Cutting boulevard ..d, between Tenth street and Macdonald avenue, was completed yesterday. This portion of big job was done at a cost of approximately $152,000. The road extends from San Pablo avenue to the West side of Richmond. However at the extreme end of each section of the thoroughfare, repairs are yet necessary. The council has already called for bids for the improvement of Cutting, Ashlandand Richmond avenue intersection on the west side, while the couhty will be asked to do the improving of the eastern extremity of the thoroughfare.

The street is 110 feet wide. Through the center, a parking section, 22 feet in width extends along the entire boulevard. This is the portion of land upon which the Southern Pacific company is contemplating erecting a trolley system, similar to the Oakland- Alameda line. A feature of the work, which is also unique is the fact that sewers have been laid along each side of the street. It is said that this is with few exceptions the only street constructed along similar lines in the state. This eliminates the necessity of tearing up the street when sewers are instlled.

DISTRICT CONVENTION OF LIBRARIANS HELD HERE YESTERDAY

"The library is the most helpful institution in a community. It assists in more ways than one. In fact, the library tells practically everything. It carries the information on how to raise the boy and also that of how to run a corporation. So you see, that it covers all territory pretty thoroughly.

This was how Guy Miller, library trustee at the Palo Alta Library, summed up the library at the opening meeting of the two-day session of district librarians in this city yesterday morning. Miss Della Wilsey, city librarian presided at the meeting. The address of welcome was made by Mrs. E. B. Smallwood, president of the Board of Library Trustees. In behalf of the city and library, Mrs. Smallwood welcomed the delegates, of whom there were nearly fifty present.

LOBOR LEADEP PREDICTS BRIGHT FUTURE FOR THE WORLD LABOR MOVEWENT

"As we have struggled through the ages for religious freedom and then for political liberty, so the struggle is now on for industrial democracy." sad Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in addressing the San Francisco Labor Council.

"The fact is that the power is gravitating from political to economic and it is the exercise of the economic power of the worker that will dominate the world for justice, liberty and humanity," continued President Gompers.

Referring to the Clayton Act, passed by the 1914 Congress, which declares that "the labor of a human being is not a commodity or article on commerce," President Gompers said, it is the first time in the history of the world that any government has made such a declaration. Its value can never be overestimated. What the Declaration of Independence meant to the people of the United States the Clayton Act will mean to the present and future working people of our country."

Seamen's Act Important.

"Of almost equal importance to the people is the Seamen's act, which not only emancipates and protects the seamen, but means safety to those who travel the seas, whether for employment, pleasure or profit."

President Gompers reviewed briefly the struggle of organized labor, its aims and achievements. "The future is bright," said President Gompers, "for, thanks to the spirit underlying the organized labor movemeint of America, we made the fight, and prison cells had no influence in stopping the wave all over this country and making an impression on the conscience of the people o our country, which culminated in the Clayton Act and the seamen's act.

Congratulates Workers.

gold medal ie ovementofi . ot President Gompers wore the gold medal which was presented to him in San Francisco in 1891 by the trade unionists of theis city. He spoke of his visit here at that time and congratulated the workers of the Pacific Coast upon their splendid fight against the invasion of the Asiatics.

"California is known the world over as a State that is progressive and alive to the interests of the wage-earners," said Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, in addressing the San Francisco Labor Council.

"One of the most important matters to be considered by the A. F. of L. convention next week will be that of the restriction of immigration. If it had not been for the war we would have had a great influx of immigrants. The war saved us from a panic. As a result of the war a great impetus has been given certain industries in the East and labor took advantage of theopportunity to secure a shorter work day and more pay. The war will not last forever, and with the close of the war labor will be compelled to stand the shock of cessation of great war industries and a tremendous increase in the immigration to this country. There will be a great army of men and women flicking to this country at the close of the war, with thousands already here out of employment. The American Fedaration of Labor will reintroduce the immigration bill, and we believe it will pass, even over the President's veto, if he should see fit to veto it.

Plenty of Labor.

"There is no dearth of labor in this country even though the Steel Trust is advertising for men. The Steel Trust always had two men for every job. There is a condition that the A. F. o L. is trying to get away from. There are plenty of men tofill the jobs in this country providing union wages are paid, but they won't work for ninety cents a day, as has been offered in some parts of the South.

"I believe that the power of organized labor within the next few years will be put to a severe test, but I feel that we can stand the test and come through victorious. The comink struggle will only increase and strengthen the American labor movement.

"I see a bright future for the labor movement in America, but we must notrest on our oars. We must take advantage of every opportunity to send men to Congress like our good friend John I. Nolan—men who know the wants and the needs of the workers."

FLED FROM TIPPERARY; FEARED CALL TO ARMS

A local color to the European was was wifted into Richmond yesterday by the apearance of Pat Toomy, of Tipperary, Ireland. Toomey has secured work with a local contracting firm. Fearing conscription, Toomey secured passage to this country. He claims that the German interests provided his fare to this country and also transportation to Richmond.

"I feared conscription," said Toomey last night. "So when the German representatives offered me theopportunity to get out of the country I grabbed it up. Quite a large number of other of my countrymen took advantage of the offer."

GREAT BASEBALL BATTLE WILL BE STAGED BEFORE THE LOCAL FANS TODAY

Old King baseball will bring his reign in Richmond to a close today. With every indication last night for a wonderful "baseball" day, citizens along the Rialto were predicting the record crowd of the season. Today's contest is of more interest to local fandom than the usual Sunday performances. For months, Richmond fandom has demanded that the Elks be pitted against the best in the state. And the energetic manager, William Luce, heeded. First he brought down to Richmond, the Orovilla club. The visiting team, champion of the Trolley League, augmented the best in the Trolley League was easily defeated by the Elks. And so it was with Oakland Coast League club.

The exhibition put up by the Elks against the Coasters was certainly a wonderful one. The boys hit the ball hard and fielded in big league form. Today they have the opportunity, not only desired by Richmond fandom but by the members of the club. All have longed for the day when they could meet the champions of the Coast League. San Francisco grabbed the pennant, but Salt Lake was in the running up until the final week of play. The coasters have two big league stars in their line up and also Ping Bodie, the mighty slugger of the Seals.

Probably never before in the history of Richmond has ever such a galaxy of stars assembled in the local park at one time. And the big feature of the event is the fact that the big stars will get into action. They will do their utmost to defeat the Elks, will these visitors. And when the shades of eventide are falling, Richmond fandom will have the answer to the much mooted question "Can they do it!".

Luce at a late hour last night had not decided whether Charlie Burns of Frank Gordon would twirl.

"This is the big game of the year," said Luce, "and we are not going to take any chances. Charlie and Frank will warm up Sunday morning and the one who has the best stuff will start for the Elks. The fans can rest assured that they will see a great exhibition of the national pastime. If the Coasters win, they will know that they have been up against a baseball club."

All of the members of the team are confident. The city dopesters figure it out for a Richmond victory on these grounds.

That the Elks have already faced Killilay, who oposes them today.

That every twirler who ever faced the Elks has been beaten in the second battle, no matter what the outcome of the first.

That with th exception of Ping Bodie, the visitors cannot be classed as fence busters.

That the Elks have all to gain and nothing to lose and are therefore sure to put up the best game they have.

That the Elks, by their recent victories have an unbeatable confidence and are playing together.

And that just about sums up the situation. The Elks have a peculiar habit of landing on a moundsman in their second games. Take for instance Kremer and Benham of Sebastopol nd Hoallis of Petaluma.

The team appears to be making preliminary arrangements for the real onslaught in its first appearance against a twirler. Killilay pitched Martinez to victory in a thrilling 1 to 0 game. If the Elks run true to form, Killilay is due for a heavy bombardment today.

The coasters last Sunday nosed out Sebastopol 5 to 1. This strengthens the hope in the breasts of Richmond fandom that the Elks can turn the trick of easing the skids under the Coasters.

ARNOLD FILES SUIT

Attorney Lee D. Windrem yesterday filed a suit for James P. Arnold asking $25,000 damages of the Daily News Publishing company for an article apeparing in these columns several montths ago. This article has no particular significanee and should not be regarded with any apprehension or seriousness by Daily News readers and supporters. The move is made for the purpose of eliminating the Daily News from the newspaper field, this newspaper being the only daily labor newspaper in the vicinity of the bay cities. The Daily News is under a three year lease to the publisher Mr. C. B. O'Hara and there is no chance of the suit having any effect on the publishing of the paper. The Daily News will continue to fight for union labor and readees can rest assured that the Daily News will be in existance many yeass to come.

Mr. Norman H. Matson, former editor of the Daily News who was convicted of criminal libel for the article published, is at present preparing an appeal. Considerable new evidence will be furnished and it is extremely doubtful if the latest attempt to intimidate the labor forces will ever come to trial.

TEACHING "EFFICIENCY" IN OUR AMERICAN SCHOOLS

What shall we play up stronger in our schools—EFFICIENCY or IMAGINATION?

From one of the best schools in the country, a certain eight-year-old baby girl went home and prattled toher dad about "values," "comparisons," and "ratios." She was being taught arithmetic by a well-known method.

In another city, also noted for its schools, an eight-year-old baby girl went home carrying painted butterflies that she had made herself, windmills that she had seen and the fairy stories she had listened to. She had never heard of "comparisons," "ratios" and "values".

Here you have your two methods of teaching.

The first—let's call it EFFICIENCY—teaching them by play and by appealing to their senses and their imagination. To become presently, perhaps, far-sighted business men or great leaders in war or peace.

We're not sure which method will make best American men and women. We do know, however, that MORE CHILDREN COMMIT SUICIDE in the European country which drills it into them than in any other country in the world.

So we choose the play and imagination method for our eight-year-old babies!

BLOODSHED, NOT TRADE, FOLLOWS THE FLAG

Imperialism teaches that trade follows the flag, and that the flag must follow and protect the trader. Whatever sort of bargain he manages to drive, especially in the poor and ignorant parts of the world, his country, if it is truly imperialistic, must help him to enforce. He may rob, by chicane, but if a stranger, by a more direct and brutal method, robs him in return his imperialistic government at home will have revenge or know the reason why.

Thus was China plundered. Whenever a devoted missionary riskd his life once too often, and lost it, the great powers inwardly thanked God, and sent a punitive expedition. Behind the punitive expedition came the trader, and back of him, as he went ashore, the warships of his country rode at anchor. When he turned about, amid the clink of coin and babble of foreign tongues, he saw his country's flag flying at a masthead, and his bosom thrilled with honest emotion.

Yet it seems to be a question if imperialism is as successful as it was thought to be. Japan is now reaching out after the trade of China, relying less on military force than on her ability to outwit and undersell. India, a classic example of conquest for revenge, was assailed by German traders before the war began. With all her power Great Britian could not, or did not, prevent the spread of German trade; with all her wisdom she could not persuade India's ryots to forgo one cheering draught of American patent medicines, nor India's business men to lay aside an American typewriter and wrestle with an English one.

But if the money gains from imperialism are fictitious, the blood that has been shed, and is being shed, for that doctrine was warm and real. Bloodshed follows the flag, though trade may not. Fallacy though imperialism be found to be, the discovery will never waft back into the warm light of day the souls of English boys who died because English merchants desired markets for English goods. They who died and are dying, from the Heights of Abraham to Gallipoli, are not concerned any more, forever, with profit or with loss.

GIANT POWDER INTERESTS WILL BRANCH OUT IN THE KELP GATHERING BUSINESS

Due to the great shortageof Iodine, formerly obtained from Germany, and which is one of the important ingredients of the various products of the Giant Powder works, the powder company will shortly start several small vessels in the kelp gathering industry on the Pacific coast. Kelp or sea-weed, is the sole source of iodine, that important chemicle being extracted from it by burning and refining.

Kelp abounds along the Pacific coast, and the powder company announces that it will continue the harvesting of it after the war is over. The vessels will be equippes with hooks to pull that specie of marine vegetation from the beds and the extraction of the iodine will fe performed in a new department at the Giant plant. Construction of the buildings to contain the kilns, etc. necessary to the work, has been started.

MAZDA

True Lighting Economy
Demands Good Electric Lamps

ELECTRIC LIGHTING BILLS are always higher in the Fall and Winter than during the Spring and Summer months.

EVERYONE KNOWS WHY—they realize that the hours of darkness increase greatly as winter approaches—understand how the short, cloudy days make a great deal of artifical lighting necessary in home, store and factory.

The greatest help toward keeping lighting bills where they ought to be consists of using Mazda lamps.

Most people interested in getting the best illumination at smallest expense already use Mazda lamps.

TRY THEM OUT IF YOU HAVE NOT ALREADY DONE SO.
